Anti-Bullying Policy

Introduction

Bullying may be defined as “deliberately” hurtful behaviour usually repeated over a period of time, where it is difficult for those bullied to defend themselves. It can take many forms, but the three main types are physical, verbal and emotional. The use of mobile phones, email and web-based chat-rooms has led to the rise of cyber-bullying, which may be defined as the ‘sending or posting of harmful or cruel text or images using the internet or other digital communication devices.

Bullying can take different forms. The following are examples of different types of bullying behaviour:

- physical aggression such as hitting, kicking, pushing or tripping;
- interference with another’s property, causing deliberate damage or theft to that property;
- verbal, for example, through racist, homophobic or sectarian remarks, threats, name calling or demeaning comments, gender re-assignment;
- emotional hurt, through isolating or excluding an individual from the activities and social acceptance of his/her peer group or through passing notes or spreading rumours;
- intimidation and harassment, for example, through pressure from members of a group against an individual so that s/he feels uneasy or frightened;

- cyber-bullying, for example, through mobile phone cameras, emails, chat rooms, instant messaging and websites.

Aim

At UTC Plymouth we believe all students have a right to be educated in an atmosphere in which they feel valued, secure and supported by each member of the community. The values of UTC Plymouth emphasise respect for each individual and to encourage honesty and openness. These core values are at the centre of our culture and taught explicitly through all aspects of the curriculum - Respect, resilience, professionalism, discipline and dedication. By its nature, bullying is contrary to these values and is unacceptable. We accept that bullying is a whole UTC issue which requires a consistent approach from a wide range of people. Preventing and countering bullying requires an awareness of bullying type behaviour and a collective vigilance on the part of all members of the UTC community.

The Anti-Bullying Policy aims to:

- Help in the understanding of what constitutes bullying-type behaviour;
- Indicate approaches to preventing bullying and to responding to bullying-type behaviour.

Operation

The UTC Community

Each member of the UTC community has a role to play in helping to prevent bullying and in creating an atmosphere in which it is not allowed to develop.

At the UTC, action will be taken to prevent bullying in the following ways:

- by promoting and maintaining an ethos that encourages consideration and respect for others and which is firmly based on the values of UTC;
- by educating students about the boundaries of appropriate behaviour towards others and addressing bullying and related issues through PSHE, Citizenship, peer mentoring and assembly programmes;

- by ensuring effective supervision of locations within the UTC where bullying is likely to occur and highlighting to students, with the support of parents / guardians, the importance of appropriate behaviour when travelling to and from the UTC;
- by liaising with other support agencies as appropriate, some of whom are on site;
- by encouraging a strong sense of belonging to the UTC through participation in enrichment activities;
- by having clear procedures for responding to bullying, which are kept under regular review.

Procedures for dealing with bullying

Bullying is unacceptable and a culture of openness is the best way to counter such behaviour. It is the responsibility of each member of the community – students, employees and parents / guardians – to report instances of bullying, or suspicions of bullying, in the understanding that all such reports will be listened to and taken seriously.

In each instance, the priority should be that the bullied individual feels supported and that the individual/s responsible for the bullying are made aware that their behaviour is unacceptable and the bullying stops. The precise action for dealing with an incident will vary. However, the following broad guidelines apply:

- instances of bullying or suspicion of bullying should be reported by students, parents / guardians or UTC employees to the appropriate Pastoral Lead. It is recognised, however, that on occasion, the report may be made to the Headteacher and Deputy Headteacher.. A record of any report will be taken and, in all instances;
- the Pastoral Lead will investigate, in liaison with the Headteacher and the Deputy Headteacher (as necessary);
- students directly involved will be asked to give a written account of the incident;
- parents / guardians of all students will be contacted promptly;

- if necessary, referrals to outside agencies will be made in accordance with procedures;
- the students bullied will be given practical advice and support;
- an appropriate response will be made, and recorded, with regard to the individual/s responsible;
- the situation will be monitored and reviewed after one month by the Pastoral Lead to ensure the welfare of all students involved.

Response to bullying

A range of responses may be used in dealing with bullying. The response(s) to be used will depend upon the severity of and persistence of the bullying being perpetrated. It is intended that the person responsible will learn from what has happened and change his/her behaviour. Education and raising awareness are effective ways of challenging bullying and encouraging individual students to take responsibility for their own actions. This may include the student's involvement in a programme of mentoring, counselling, community service or referral to an outside agency. Teaching group activities, themes of the week and assemblies may also be used for this purpose.

In addition, sanctions, in line with the Behaviour for Learning Policy, to be considered are:

- verbal reprimand from appropriate staff member
- verbal and/or written apology
- Internal exclusion
- fixed term exclusion
- permanent exclusion

Anti-Bullying – Information for Parents

What is bullying?

Bullying is if individuals or groups are:

- calling your child names
- threatening him/her
- pressuring your child to give someone money or possessions
- hitting your child
- damaging your child's possessions
- spreading rumours about your child or your family
- using text, email or web space to write or say hurtful things about your child (cyber bullying).

It is also bullying if your child feels hurt because of things said about their ethnic background, religious faith, gender, sexuality, disability, special educational need, appearance or specific issues in your family.

What should you do if your child is being bullied?

You should contact your child's Mentor as soon as possible to explain your concerns. It would be most helpful if you could ensure you have as many details as possible, including dates, places and names.

The Mentor will investigate your concerns and will aim to communicate their findings with you within 24 hours of your original contact.

What will the UTC do?

The UTC does not tolerate bullying. This is what we do about bullying:

- work to make sure that the person being bullied is safe;
- work to stop the bullying happening again;
- provide support to the person being bullied and

- take actions to ensure that the person doing the bullying learns not to harm others.

What to do if you feel the situation has not been resolved appropriately

If you feel your concerns are not being addressed appropriately by the Mentor you should:

- contact the Pastoral Lead for your child's year group to explain your continued concerns.
- if you remain concerned you should contact the Deputy Headteacher to explain your continued concerns.
- if you are still concerned you should make an appointment to meet the Headteacher to discuss your concerns.
- if you remain unhappy with the response from all staff above you should put your concerns in writing to the Chair of the Board of Governors.

- educate students on the impact of bullying (PSHE/Character Curriculum).

What should you do?

Talk to someone you trust and get them to help you take the right steps to stop the bullying, this could be any member of staff.

If you feel you are being bullied:

- try to stay calm and look as confident as you can;
- be firm and clear — look them in the eye and tell them to stop;
- get away from the situation as quickly as possible
- tell an adult what has happened straight away or, if you do not feel comfortable telling an adult, tell another pupil.
- email a staff member
- email The Worrybox (worrybox@utcplymouth.org)

If you have been bullied:

- tell your Mentor or another adult at the UTC;
- tell your parents and ask them to contact your Mentor to explain your concerns;
- if you are scared to tell your Mentor or another adult at the UTC on your own, ask a friend to go with you.

- If you feel that the adult you have spoken to has not acted, tell another adult at the UTC (ideally this should be the Pastoral Lead for your year)
- If you still feel the situation is not being dealt with, first talk to the Deputy Headteacher and then the Headteacher.
- don't blame yourself for what has happened.

When you are talking to an adult about bullying be clear about:

- what has happened to you;
- how often it has happened;
- who was involved;
- who saw what was happening;
- where it happened and
- what you have done about it already.

If you find it difficult to talk to anyone at the UTC or at home, ring Child Line on free phone 0800 1111. This is a confidential helpline. If you are hard of hearing you can use the text phone 0800 400 222. You can also write to Freepost 1111, London N1 0BR. The phone-call and letter are free.
